I am a programmer and honestly speaking i am using microsoft products on my day to day job. As much as i hate microsoft products, i cannot do anything as it is being used by the company where i work for. i actually prefer other softwares than that of microsoft.

it's a shame that when somebody is going up and leaving us behind, we would try to pull him down in any way. why do most people complain when they feel they are being defeated? It is hard to imagine the kind of thinking people particularly those involved mainly in the case, judges, attorneys, etc. What is "monopoly"? i guess you have a "stupid" and "one-sided" meaning for it.

this is in defense for microsoft but rather a personal opinion.
